Pastel Studio on a Board™

Mike Mahon, a successful painter and workshop instructor, has developed a revolutionary NEW pastel easel. He became frustrated working with pastel setups that were simply conversions of oil painting easels, and has created a complete easel especially for pastelists!

Now, whether painting on city sidewalks where a small footprint is absolutely necessary, or in wild and remote locations, pastelists can finally work from a secure and compact easel with easy and quick setup and breakdown.

Mike Mahon's Pastel Porter™ is a foldable board onto which is mounted a uniquely designed pastel box with foam pads. Pastels of virtually all sizes can be inserted into the pads, allowing the Pastel Porter™ to be used in an upright position. Pastels remain at or near eye level, and are cleaned each time they are removed from their foam pad. The working surface can be rotated from a horizontal to vertical configuration in moments. Even fully loaded with pastels, the box and board weigh less than 12 pounds.

The Pastel Porter™ fits into a carrying case for normal carrying, and is small enough for a midsize suitcase. Newly available, the Pastel Porter™ Tripod is ideally suited, like no other tripod, to this system. All components are safe for air travel or bumping along in the back of your car.
